HOT TOPICS 63: CLIMATE CHANGE

New release

Climate change law is an emerging area of law that includes science, environmental policy, economics, tax, trade, international agreements, criminal law and civil law. It can be anything from a tax on carbon emissions to criminal sanctions for breaching pollution licences. This issue of Hot Topics traces the progress of climate change from a side issue in international affairs to the hot topic it is today. Discusses some of the major problems caused by climate change and responses at international, national and local levels, and includes ideas for future development in this area of law.

Hot Topics is a magazine series on legal issues published by the Legal Information Access Centre (LIAC). Hot Topics provides information for the community and for students and is provided free of charge to every public library in NSW.

HOT TOPICS 63: CLIMATE CHANGE* – Available now in your local public library!

Hot Topics are available for purchase as a yearly subscription of $82.50 for four issues; and individual issues are $22.00 (prices include GST, postage and handling). For more information or orders contact Cathy Hammer, Legal Information Access Centre.
